

Carrie Sully

A Cork native, Carrie has run and hosted comedy events in Canada and the UK and is fast becoming a familiar face on the Irish scene, where nobody is impressed by her accent.

She also produced and hosted a radio show on Vancouver Co-op radio, and launched Vancouver's first regular LGBT comedy night. An advocate for diversity in comedy, Carrie has recently started up a regular comedy open mic for women (@giving_lip_comedy), and teaches workshops for those who want to try stand-up.

Her quiet self-effacing wit will charm you.
